Descendants of John Chafe

Generation No. 1

1. John<sup>1</sup> Chafe<sup>1</sup> was born Bet. 1686 - 1690 in Ipplepen/Berry Pomeroy/Torquay, Devon, England, and died 1759 in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland or Ipplepen area, Devon, England. He married Ann ? 1720 in Berry Pomeroy, Devon, England.

Notes for John Chafe:

Born near Ipplepen/Berry Pomeroy in Devon. John was the first recorded Chafe in Newfoundland. Likely from him the Chafe surname flourished in Canada. He arrived in Petty Harbour Newfoundland circa 1705/6, likely leaving from the port of Topsham (south of Exeter). When he arrived he was an unmarried bye boat keeper. Bye boat keepers obtained their own goods from merchants and hired their own fishermen. John was literate and of good character as he was hired as a constable in 1729. There is no reference to his wife, but her name could have been Ann from naming patterns. The Chafe's were followers of the Church of England. The branch was prosperous because of fishing, sealing and attempts to establish farms at Goulds, a few miles west of Petty Harbour. Some of the oldest headstones in Petty Harbour belong to the Chafe branch and were imported from England. They had four sons: Edward (c.1720-1824), Samuel (c.1722-1800), Henry (c.1725-1801) and William (c.1728-1812).

John was literate and of good character as he was hired as a constable in 1729. There is no reference to his wife, but her name could have been "Ann" as they may have had a daughter by that name. There is no evidence of daughters although there may have been a daughter Ann. Each of the Chafe sons married but Samuel did not appear to have had children. On his son Henry's marriage records to Ann Efford, the father is shown as John Chafe of Torquay, Devon.

John brought over from Devon a silver teapot (c.1680's) that eventually belonged to cousin Edward Chafe and an oak desk (c.1730) that belonged to another cousin. Mercantile Ledger exists from 1713-1719 in Petty Harbour.

Children of John Chafe and Ann ? are:

2. i. Edward<sup>2</sup> Chafe, b. Abt. 1720, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland; d. 12 Jan 1802, Tormoham (Torquay), Devonshire, England.
- ii. Samuel Chafe, b. Abt. 1722; d. Abt. 1800; m. Jane Moretin (Mowton), 30 Sep 1759.
3. iii. Henry Chafe, b. Abt. 1725; d. Nov 1801, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland.
4. iv. William Chafe, b. Abt. 1728, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland; d. 1812, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland.
- v. Ann Chafe, m. ? Williams.

Generation No. 2

2. Edward<sup>2</sup> Chafe (John<sup>1</sup>) was born Abt. 1720 in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland, and died 12 Jan 1802 in Tormoham (Torquay), Devonshire, England. He married Jane (Jenny/Jinny) Way 01 Jan 1749/50 in Ipplepen, Devon, England, daughter of William Way and Mary Mugg. She was born 02 Apr 1731 in Wolborough, Devon, England, and died 22 Feb 1811 in Tormoham (Torquay), Devonshire, England.

Notes for Edward Chafe:

Note by Ed Chafe 1999:

Edward Chafe (c.1720-1824) was born in Petty Harbour, but was sent back to Devon to receive an education. Edward married at Ipplepen, Devon, on 1 January 1750 to Jane (Jenny) Way (1731-?). They had eight children baptized at Wolborough, Devon; Edward (1751), John (1753), William (1755), Henry (1757-1814), Samuel (1760), Elizabeth (1763), Thomas (1766), and James (1768). The family headed to Petty Harbour about the time of the start of the American Revolution (1776), possibly to escape the press gangs for the British Navy. Edward owned property in Petty Harbour next to his brother Henry Chafe on the south side. His son Edward married at Ipplepen in 1750.

Spelled as Chhaiff in the Newfoundland Church records

19 December 1749 - Edward Chafe of Ipplepen, mariner, to Flora Cornish of St. Paul's in Exeter, spinster. Edward Chafe of Ipplepen and Tom Smith an inn holder put up the £200 (not the father in law, possibly indicating parental disapproval)

These licences meant that they could only be married in the parishes mentioned. Taking out a licence did not necessarily mean they would marry and therefore, it is likely the first marriage did not take place, especially as the money for the marriage was put up by Edward Chafe and Thomas Smith of Exeter, Innholder. Shortly after, Edward Chafe married Jane (Jinny) Way of Wolborough. A few years later, a Flora Cornish married Henry Martin.

From the Royal Greenwich Observatory Archives (now transferred to the Cambridge University Library and also copied to the Public Records Office in Kew) are copies letters by Edward Chafe of Tormoham (called Torquay in the 1800's) and William Chafe of Berry Pomeroy. The signature of Edward is virtually identical to that on his marriage licence to Flora Cornish and at least one Newfoundland document. They relate to Edward's claim of solving the Longitude problem. Although Harrison claimed the prize in 1773, the Longitude Board sat until the Longitude Act was repealed in 1828. Edward's letters are dated from around

Newfoundland Chafe Family

1783 to 1786 with the one from William Chafe of Berry Pomeroy (1785). Unfortunately, Edward was not awarded anything as the Admiralty demanded that all submissions should be submitted with proof from someone who had scientific knowledge. One cannot say with certainty that these letters are from Edward Chafe, but the signature is the same as that on several documents and it links Edward with William of Berry Pomeory.

Edward and his wife Jane (Jinny) Way are buried in Tormoham. Recorded in the Parish Register is Edward Chafe was buried the 12th January 1802 and Jinney (Jenney?) Chafe widow buried 22 February 1811. Unfortunately, the churchyard that Edward and Jinny are buried was cleared some years ago, so there are no gravestones still standing. Tormoham in it's day was quite a large port where ships sailed in and ship's captains retired, so it is not too difficult to see why Edward chose to live there in the latter part of his life.

Children of Edward Chafe and Jane Way are:

5. i. Edward<sup>3</sup> Chafe, b. 18 Dec 1751, Wolborough, Devon, England.
6. ii. John Chafe, b. 16 Sep 1753, Wolborough, Devon, England.
- iii. William Chafe, b. 19 Sep 1755, Wolborough, Devon, England.
7. iv. Henry Chafe, b. 23 Nov 1757, Wolborough, Devon, England; d. 14 Jul 1814, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland.
- v. Samuel Chafe, b. 18 Sep 1760, Wolborough, Devon, England.
- vi. Elizabeth Chafe, b. 17 Oct 1763, Wolborough, Devon, England; d. 20 Oct 1763, Wolborough, Devon, England.
8. vii. Thomas Chafe, b. 26 Aug 1766, Wolborough, Devon, England; d. 29 Oct 1843, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland.
- viii. James Chafe, b. 30 Dec 1768, Wolborough, Devon, England.

3. Henry<sup>2</sup> Chafe (John<sup>1</sup>) was born Abt. 1725, and died Nov 1801 in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland. He married Ann Efford 01 Feb 1761 in St. John's, Newfoundland, daughter of George Efford and Ann Gempton. She was born 01 Oct 1735, and died 17 Jul 1813.

Notes for Henry Chafe:

Aged 78 years.

Also in memory of Ann wife of the above Henry Chafe, who died in July, 1813

Aged 80 years.

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

On Feb 1, 1761 he married Ann Efford, the daughter of George and Anne Efford, who was born in Petty Harbour Oct 1, 1735.

They had four sons and three daughters. Henry Chafe was the wealthiest of the Chafe's in Petty Harbour. He rented out his extra fishing rooms to others. Henry had brothers William, Edward, Samuel and Richard. The Chafe's at Petty Harbour today, are thru intermarriage descended from these five brothers.

Farewell dear peaceful partner of my life
Take this last tribute of thy faithful wife
Who loved thee dearly living and who mourns thee dead
But little thought thou wouldst so soon have fled

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

The identity of Henry Chafe remains a mystery to me. If he died at age 58 years he would have been born in 1756. His age is probably incorrect. He might be the son of Henry and Ann Efford Chafe who was born Feb 1, 1763. More likely this Henry was the spouse of Elizabeth who had five children between the years 1796 and 1805.

And shed now tears for me:

For God t'was please to call me forth

And take me hence from thee

In prime of life, I was cut off

I could no longer stay

Because it was my saviours will

To call me hence away

Farewell dear wife, I must away

The Lord doth call, I must obey

As I am now so all must be

Therefore prepare to follow me

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

Annette Chafe was one of about seven or eight of John and Elizabeth Chafe. Annette had a sister Elizabeth, born Oct 23, 1815. Elizabeth married July 18, 1838 to Mathew Mony, and died two days later on July 22, 1838. John Chafe had died April 14, 1838 aged 66 years and Elizabeth's burial was listed directly below. Their cause of death must be left up to the imagination.

Note by Ed Chafe April 2005

I believe that John Chafe was likely the son of William Chafe and Mary Angel. Who was Elizabeth Wall? Her parents may never married. There is a record of a Mr. John Wall having a child by Mary Constantine on 3 March 1788 (this is Mary Bidgood, widow of Jonathan Constantine, who

Generation No. 4

17. Thomas<sup>4</sup> Chafe (Edward<sup>3</sup>, Edward<sup>2</sup>, John<sup>1</sup>) was born 1796, and died 22 Nov 1854. He married Anne Chafe 01 Jan 1822 in St. John's, Newfoundland. She was born 1784, and died Aft. 1852.

Notes for Thomas Chafe:

Note by Ed Chafe Mar 2005:

Thomas and Ann were related, but it is unknown if they were first or second cousins.

Some researchers believe that Edward married only once and his son Edward wed Mary Bidgood. However Mary Bidgood was born in 1765 and Edward Chafe Jr. was baptized in 1788 so I doubt he married a woman 20 years his senior.

Children of Thomas Chafe and Anne Chafe are:

He married (2) Sarah Williams 09 Jan 1817 in Anglican Cathedral, St. John's, Newfoundland, daughter of John Williams and Sarah Bidgood. She was born 1797 in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland, and died 17 Jul 1878 in Peterhead, Scotland.

Notes for Edward Chafe:

Note by Ed Chafe March 2005:

Edward Chafe (1796-1860) married Sarah Williams (c1797-1878) in 1817. Sarah's parents were John Williams and Sarah Bidgood.

Although there is no baptismal record for her, land transactions in the Williams family confirm her identity.

Petty Harbour is a small community so all the families are intermarried. Sarah's aunt Mary was married to Edward Chafe (1751).

Edward Chafe (1796-1860) was a nephew to Edward Chafe (1751).

Edward Chafe (1796-1860) was the son of Henry Chafe (1757-1814) and Elizabeth (?). Elizabeth remarried to John Parnell in 1817 who was a widower born in Devon. There is no issue from this second union.

Elizabeth born circa 1765, likely in Petty Hr. Her second marriage was witnessed by the Angels. Using the naming pattern tradition, Henry and Elizabeth named their eldest son Edward after his father. Their second son was named Jacob, which is an Angel name, not a Chafe name. So, was she an Angel...I wish I knew. My branch of the Chafes were wealthy and it's said that John Parnell hid a will in a clock which left John Angel a substantial amount of money in England. I examined the Angel wills in London and they did have money, but I could not make a connection with Petty Harbour.

Two daughters of Edward and Sarah Chafe married into the illustrious Winsor family of Aquaforte and in honor of this connection "Winsor" was added as a middle name for some of the grandchildren. Another daughter, Belinda Chafe, married Robert Shaw of St. John's.

Child of Edward Chafe and Elizabeth Williams is:

- i. Elizabeth Ann<sup>5</sup> Chafe, b. 10 Oct 1813.

Children of Edward Chafe and Sarah Williams are:

- ii. Alvina<sup>5</sup> Chafe, b. 14 Feb 1819; d. 23 May 1901; m. John Jennings Winsor, 19 Jan 1841, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland; b. 11 Nov 1816, Dartmouth, Devon, England; d. 02 Jun 1880, St. John's, Newfoundland.
- iii. Edward Chafe, b. 14 Feb 1819, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland.
- 52. iv. Elizabeth Chafe, b. Abt. 1820, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland; d. 1878.
- 53. v. Henry Edward Chafe, b. 22 Jul 1821, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland; d. 21 Feb 1894, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland.

He married Harriet Chafe 1825, daughter of Samuel Chafe and Mary Marshall. She was born 1804, and died 30 May 1886.

Notes for Jacob Chafe:

The Newfoundland Museum in St. John's has a silver watch (Catalogue Number R986.823) presented to Jacob Chafe in 1829, in thanks for his part in the rescue. The inscription on the watch reads "Presented by the Chairman of the Marine Insurance Association of St. John's, NF to Mr. Jacob Chafe as a testimony of approbation of his conduct in the saving of the schooner Helen on 1st May 1828". The watch was made by Vale & Ratheran, Birmingham England in 1829 or 1830, (Hallmark on inside cover: Anchor Black F Maker VR) and is 0.925 Stirling. Jacob Chafe was a successful planter and sealing captain.

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

Jacob Chafe was the father of ten children all of which lived to adulthood. Jacob was possibly the son of Henry Chafe (who died July 7th 1814) who was born Jan 28, 1798. I could not find no record of Jacob's marriage but he married about 1825 to Harriet Alan or Harriet Chafe. Jacob was the father of Matilda Ruby and Henry George Chafe.

Note by Ed Chafe 1999:

Jacob Chafe (1798-1878) married Harriet (1804-1886), circa 1822 at Petty Harbour. His occupation was a fish curer. It is possible that Harriet Allan (1804-1886) was the child of Samuel Chafe and Mary Marshall. Some people in Petty Harbour say she was an "Allen" but the diary of Levi George Chafe states that she was Sam Chafe's daughter. Jacob and Harriet had nine children; Lucretia (1824-1916), Sophia (1826-1913), Henry George (1827-1884), Emmanuel (1829-1908), Mary Ann (1832-1908), Elizabeth Sarah (1834-1864), Amelia Maria (1837-1924), Harriet Allen (1840-?) and Matilda (1843-1897). Jacob Chafe was a successful planter and sealing captain.

Born in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland. Jacob was a successful planter, sealer and fisherman. The Newfoundland Museum in St. John's has a silver watch presented to Jacob Chafe in 1829, in recognition for his part in his first sea rescue, the Helen, a schooner out of St. John's which was shipwrecked on May 01, 1828. The inscription on the watch reads "Presented by the Chairman of the Marine Insurance Association of St. John's, NF to Mr. Jacob Chafe as a testimony of approbation of his conduct in the saving of the schooner Helen on 1st May 1828". On June 8, 1852, a bait skiff (26 to 32 feet long) was caught in a squall near Petty Harbour while returning from Conception Bay with a load of bait. Everyone in the community witnessed the event but were powerless to help the men. They drowned one by one, except a boy clinging to the mast. Jacob Chafe successfully rescued the boy. The famous Newfoundland folk song, "The Petty Harbour Bait Skiff" written in 1852, recalls the event. It was composed by John Grace of St. John's, where there was "crying and lamenting in the streets" on learning of the fate of Skipper John French and his crew. Edward Chafe said that when he was little, his grandfather had a copper sundial in the parlour which was presented to Jacob Chafe, the Hero Brave, in recognition of his courage and selflessness.

Note by Ed Chafe April 2005:

Amelia and her husband Thomas were second cousins. Years ago someone in Petty Hr. told me there was a problem conceiving children among some of the Chafes due to all the intermarriage. Both of their youngest sons lived just two days which suggests some genetic problem.

Amelia Chafe was probably the spouse of Thomas Chafe who married Nov 30, 1837. She was the third Amelia born to Samuel and Mary (Marshall) Chafe on June 14, 1818. If this is so, the above age is incorrect. Amelia and Thomas had four children, three of who died as infants.

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

The identity of Elizabeth Chafe remains a mystery to me. She might possibly be the second wife of Samuel David Chafe. Samuel D. Chafe and Elizabeth Chafe married May 15 1857. There were three children resulting from the union all of whom reached adulthood. Samuel David died Dec 25 1892 aged 76 years

Another possibility is that Elizabeth was the wife of George Chafe. George Chafe married Elizabeth Chafe on Nov 9th, 1835. George and his sons Levi and Theophilius are buried in the lower part of the cemetery.

Note by Edward Chafe:

Philip Chafe (c1813-1879) was likely the son of Henry Chafe & Dorcas Widger. They married in 1803, but their first known child was baptised in 1809. It is quite possible that they had three unknown children during the 1803-1809 gaps in the church records.

Notes for Jacob Chafe:

The Newfoundland Museum in St. John's has a silver watch (Catalogue Number R986.823) presented to Jacob Chafe in 1829, in thanks for his part in the rescue. The inscription on the watch reads "Presented by the Chairman of the Marine Insurance Association of St. John's, NF to Mr. Jacob Chafe as a testimony of approbation of his conduct in the saving of the schooner Helen on 1st May 1828". The watch was made by Vale & Rotheran, Birmingham England in 1829 or 1830, (Hallmark on inside cover: Anchor Black F Maker VR) and is 0.925 Stirling. Jacob Chafe was a successful planter and sealing captain.

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

Jacob Chafe was the father of ten children all of which lived to adulthood. Jacob was possibly the son of Henry Chafe (who died July 7th 1814) who was born Jan 28, 1798. I could not find no record of Jacob's marriage but he married about 1825 to Harriet Alan or Harriet Chafe. Jacob was the father of Matilda Ruby and Henry George Chafe.

Note by Ed Chafe 1999:

Jacob Chafe (1798-1878) married Harriet (1804-1886), circa 1822 at Petty Harbour. His occupation was a fish curer. It is possible that Harriet Allan (1804-1886) was the child of Samuel Chafe and Mary Marshall. Some people in Petty Harbour say she was an "Allen" but the diary of Levi George Chafe states that she was Sam Chafe's daughter. Jacob and Harriet had nine children; Lucretia (1824-1916), Sophia (1826-1913), Henry George (1827-1884), Emmanuel (1829-1908), Mary Ann (1832-1908), Elizabeth Sarah (1834-1864), Amelia Maria (1837-1924), Harriet Allen (1840-?) and Matilda (1843-1897). Jacob Chafe was a successful planter and sealing captain.

Born in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland. Jacob was a successful planter, sealer and fisherman. The Newfoundland Museum in St. John's has a silver watch presented to Jacob Chafe in 1829, in recognition for his part in his first sea rescue, the Helen, a schooner out of St. John's which was shipwrecked on May 01, 1828. The inscription on the watch reads "Presented by the Chairman of the Marine Insurance Association of St. John's, NF to Mr. Jacob Chafe as a testimony of approbation of his conduct in the saving of the schooner Helen on 1st May 1828". On June 8, 1852, a bait skiff (26 to 32 feet long) was caught in a squall near Petty Harbour while returning from Conception Bay with a load of bait. Everyone in the community witnessed the event but were powerless to help the men. They drowned one by one, except a boy clinging to the mast. Jacob Chafe successfully rescued the boy. The famous Newfoundland folk song, "The Petty Harbour Bait Skiff" written in 1852, recalls the event. It was composed by John Grace of St. John's, where there was "crying and lamenting in the streets" on learning of the fate of Skipper John French and his crew. Edward Chafe said that when he was little, his grandfather had a copper sundial in the parlour which was presented to Jacob Chafe, the Hero Brave, in recognition of his courage and selflessness.

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

Amelia Chafe was probably the spouse of Thomas Chafe who married Nov 30, 1837. She was the third Amelia born to Samuel and Mary (Marshall) Chafe on June 14, 1818. If this is so, the above age is incorrect. Amelia and Thomas had four children, three of who died as infants.

Note by Ed Chafe April 2005:

Amelia and her husband Thomas were second cousins. Years ago someone in Petty Hr. told me there was a problem conceiving children among some of the Chafes due to all the intermarriage. Both of their youngest sons lived just two days which suggests some genetic problem.

Notes for Samuel E. Chafe:

Samuel E. Chafe was born circa 1815, PH, and died 18 October 1902, Goulds. He married in 1843 to Charlotte Ann Chafe, born circa 1821; died 19 April 1919, Harbour Grace. They had seven children.

The witnesses to the 1843 marriage - Ambrose (1820-1895), Abraham (1819-1885), and David Chafe Sr. (1780-1852)

Note by Ed Chafe May 2005:

Samuel E. Chafe - born circa 1815, PH - died 18 October 1902, Goulds. It is believed by family members that the year of birth his the headstone is wrong. Sam was likely the son of William Chafe and Rachel Whitten, who was born 11 February 1818, PH.

Sam married Charlotte Ann Chafe (c1821-1919) at PH on 30 November 1843. She was born during a gap in the church records. However, the witnesses at her wedding were the children of David Chafe & Ann Atkins. This couple had children from 1808 to 1830 so it is highly likely that she was their daughter.

Generation No. 5

Notes for Henry J. Cooper:

Note by Ed Chafe May 2005

Jane Elizabeth Chafe (c1826-1870) was the daughter of Thomas Chafe (c1796-1854) and Ann Chafe. This information has been confirmed by her death certificate. As for her father Thomas Chafe, there is no record of his baptism. My research leads me to believe that Thomas was the son of Edward Chafe and Mary Bidgood. Jane Chafe wed Henry J. Cooper of Somerset, England, on 8 May 1846. They had 8 children. Their youngest son William Cooper (1868-1957) wed Ida Emma Ernst and they had 6 children, among them is Ann Jackman.

Child of Jane Chafe and Henry Cooper is:

102. i. William<sup>6</sup> Cooper, b. 1868; d. 1957.

49. William Bond<sup>5</sup> Chaif (Thomas<sup>4</sup> Chafe, Edward<sup>3</sup>, Edward<sup>2</sup>, John<sup>1</sup>) was born 04 Sep 1834 in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland, and died 1903 in Montreal, Quebec. He married (1) Margaret Bridget Scanlan 04 Oct 1854 in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland. She was born Abt. 1829, and died 1904. He married (2) Maria Furlong 30 Dec 1867 in St. John's, Newfoundland, daughter of Paul Furlong and Bridget Hearn. She was born 14 Oct 1839 in St. John's, Newfoundland, and died 1899 in Montreal, Quebec.

Notes for William Bond Chaif:

Note by Edward Chafe March 2005:

William Bond Chafe (c1834-1903) married Margaret Bridget Scanlan (c1829-1904) in 1854 and they had four children. This family moved to St. John's about 1890. Margaret was Catholic so the children were raised in her religion. This branch of the family is a mystery. There are whispers in Petty Hr. that they were driven out of the community. Son Lambert seems to have had three wives. He disappears and reappears in Boston. The children of his first marriage went to Sydney Mines, NS and from there to California. I was told Lambert was in Sing-Sing prison in NY.

William Bond Chafe named his eldest son Thomas which fits the naming pattern and indeed he could also be the son of Thomas Chafe and Ann Chafe. At this point all I can say for certain is that William B. Chafe and William Chaif were not the individual.

Identifying which William is which hinges upon the birth year. I have been hoping to find an earlier birth date for William Chaif in the 1820s which could then confirm William Bond Chafe to be the one born in 1834. I have been going around in circles for years trying to figure out problems like this. The Fire of 1892 destroyed so many records.

William's surname is spelt as Chaif on the Tombstone in Cote des Neiges Cemetary. Son Richard is on ther same tombstone.

Children of William Chaif and Margaret Scanlan are:

- i. Lambert<sup>6</sup> Chafe.
- ii. Child 1 Chafe.
- iii. Child 2 Chafe.
- iv. Child 3 Chafe.

Children of William Chaif and Maria Furlong are:

103. v. Margaret<sup>6</sup> Chaif, b. 23 Oct 1868, St. John's, Newfoundland; d. 1942, Montreal, Quebec.
- vi. Paul Chafe, b. 22 Oct 1870, St. John's, Newfoundland.
104. vii. Bridget Mary Chafe, b. 05 Sep 1872, St. John's, Newfoundland; d. 01 Nov 1963, Montreal, Quebec.
105. viii. William Chaif, b. 1873, Montreal, Quebec; d. 1908.
- ix. Richard Chaif, b. 1881, Montreal, Quebec; d. 1915, Montreal, Quebec; m. Bridget McGrath, 02 Jul 1900, Montreal, Quebec.

50. Samuel E.<sup>5</sup> Chafe (William<sup>4</sup>, Edward<sup>3</sup>, Edward<sup>2</sup>, John<sup>1</sup>) was born 11 Feb 1818 in Petty Harbour, Newfoundland, and died 18 Oct 1902 in Goulds, Newfoundland. He married Charlotte Anne Chafe 13 Nov 1843, daughter of David Chafe and Anna Atkins. She was born 1821, and died 19 Apr 1919 in Harbour Grace, Newfoundland.

Notes for Samuel E. Chafe:

Samuel E. Chafe was born circa 1815, PH, and died 18 October 1902, Goulds. He married in 1843 to Charlotte Ann Chafe, born circa 1821; died 19 April 1919, Harbour Grace. They had seven children.

The witnesses to the 1843 marriage - Ambrose (1820-1895), Abraham (1819-1885), and David Chafe Sr. (1780-1852)

Note by Ed Chafe May 2005:

Samuel E. Chafe - born circa 1815, PH - died 18 October 1902, Goulds. It is believed by family members that the year of birth his the headstone is wrong. Sam was likely the son of William Chafe and Rachel Whitten, who was born 11 February 1818, PH.

Newfoundland Chafe Family

Sam married Charlotte Ann Chafe (c1821-1919) at PH on 30 November 1843. She was born during a gap in the church records. However, the witnesses at her wedding were the children of David Chafe & Ann Atkins. This couple had children from 1808 to 1830 so it is highly likely that she was their daughter.

Children of Mary Chafe and Richard Pearce are:

- 106. i. Ann<sup>6</sup> Pearce, b. 15 Apr 1837, Petty Harbour, Newfoundland; d. 04 May 1913, Goulds, Newfoundland.
- 107. ii. Elizabeth Grace Pearce, b. 1834; d. 16 Mar 1899.

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

Henry Edward Chafe married Ann Doyle on Oct 19, 1830 at the RC Basilica of St. John's. Henry Edward was likely the son of Edward and Sarah (Williams) Chafe born on July 22nd 1821. He possibly also was the grandson to Henry Chafe (who died July 7th, 1814). Ann Doyle, the daughter of Luke and Margaret (Williams) Doyle, died on Dec 11, 1902 and there is a similarly designed stone erected in the Roman Catholic Cemetery in Petty Harbour. Ann Doyle and Henry E. Chafe were the parents of five sons, of which three died in adulthood and were buried with their mother.

Gravestone in St. George's Anglican Church Petty Harbour

In memory of Elizabeth Chafe beloved wife of Robert Chafe who died March 16th 1899

Aged 65 years

Tis hard to break the tender chord
When love has bound the heart
Tis hard, so hard to speak the words
We must forever part

Dearest beloved one, we have laid thee
In thy peaceful graves embrace
But thy memory shall be cherished
Till we see thy heavenly face

During the Great War, between early in 1917 and late 1918 the Mediterranean lines of communication for the British forces serving in Salonika ran from Taranto to Turin in Italy. As troop reinforcements were needed for the Salonika campaign, liners were often employed to carry these troops and one such liner was the SS Transylvania. The turbine-engined Transylvania, (first of two with this name) 14,348 tons and a top speed of 17.5 knots, built in 1914 by Scott's Shipbuilding Company and completed just before the outbreak of the Great War was taken over for service as a transport on completion. She was designed to accommodate 1379 passengers but the Admiralty fixed her capacity at 200 officers and 2860 men, besides crew. She was carrying nearly this number when she left Marseilles for Salonika and Alexandria on May 3rd, 1917, with an escort of two Japanese destroyers, the Matsu and the Sakaki. At 10 am on the 4th the Transylvania was struck in the port engine room by a torpedo from German submarine U63, commanded by Kapitan Lieutenant Otto Schultse, near Genoa, Italy. At the time the ship was on a zig-zag course at a speed of 14 knots, being two-and-a-half miles south of cape Vado, Gulf of Genoa, Italy. She at once headed for the land two miles distant, while the Matsu came alongside to take off the troops, saving the lives of 4000 soldiers and nurses on board, the Sakaki meanwhile steaming round to keep the submarine submerged. Twenty minutes later a torpedo was seen coming straight for the destroyer alongside, and struck the Transylvania which sank very quickly, in fact in less than an hour since she was first hit. Lt. Brennell, one other officer and ten men of the crew, 29 military officers (27 are listed below) and 373 other ranks were lost, the total being 414. Bodies recovered at Savona were buried two days later from the Hospital of San Paulo in a special plot in the Town Cemetery at Zinola. Others are buried elsewhere in Italy, France, Spain and Monaco.

Newfoundland Chafe Family

Notes for Frederick (Skipper) Chafe:

The Chafe family moved seasonally between Petty Harbour and Goulds which are a few miles apart. Sarah is listed as being born in Petty Harbour where her father had a fishing premises, but her parents had a farm at Goulds as well (which in the mid-1800s was a wilderness). If the fishing season was bad, the family still had their produce and livestock on the farm to see them through the winter.

Will of Frederick Chafe from Newfoundland will books volume 12 pages 240 & 241 probate year 1922

In re FREDERICK CHAFE. DECEASED.

This is the last Will and Testament of me, Frederick Chafe, of The Goulds in the District of St. John's, West, Farmer:

FIRST: I hereby revoke all previous Wills and testamentary dispositions heretofore made by me.

SECOND: I appoint my daughter Mary Jane Chafe and Brian E. S. Dunfield of St. John's Barrister to be the executors of this my last Will and Testament.

THIRD: I give and bequeath to my daughter Mary Jane Chafe absolutely that part of my farm at the Goulds held under Grant from the Crown numbered 2121 and dated August 29th A. D. 1865 and also my house and land on Plymouth Road, Holyestown, St. John's.

FOURTH: I give and bequeath to my said executors all the residue of my property real and personal of every kind whatsoever whereof I may die possessed to held by them as it is at present or leased or sold and disposed of or dealt with in any other way which to my said executors shall seem expedient for the purpose of providing for the maintenance and support of my said daughter Mary Jane so long as she shall live and remain unmarried. In the event of my said executors seeing fit to sell or dispose of any part of my said property the proceeds shall be invested and the interest thereof devoted to the maintenance of my said daughter but provided that in case for any special reason it shall seem necessary to them my said executors shall be at liberty to pay to my said daughter or otherwise make use of for her benefit the whole or any part of the principal monies or proceeds.

FIFTH: Upon the death or marriage of my said daughter my property shall be distributed as follows:

I leave and bequeath to my daughter Mary Jane Chafe absolutely that part of my house and the appurtenances thereof which I at present occupy (being the South West portion there of) together with the whole of the garden situate in front of the house and between it and the river together with all necessary rights of way to the main road from the said part of the house from both front and back, and also from the garden.

to my son Samuel the remainder of my farm at the Goulds (that is to say the part not included under Grant numbered 2121 above mentioned) together with that part of the house which he at present occupies.

to my grandson Hugh son of Henry Williams that piece or parcel of land situate on the West side of the Goulds Back Line the same being comprised in the Grant from the Crown dated January 25th A. D. 1882, and numbered 4470.

To my daughter Mary Jane all my household furniture and effects.

The remainder of my property wheresoever situate or of whatsoever kind shall be sold in whatever way may to my said executors seem most advantageous and the proceeds thereof in money together with any other monies which may then belong to my estate shall be divided in twenty one parts which shall be distributed as follows:

To my daughter Mary Jane six parts which if she shall die unmarried or without issue and shall not by Will otherwise appoint, shall be equally divided among the rest of the family;

to my daughter Fanny Rosamond Lee three parts;

to my daughter Sarah Ann Leard three parts; to my son Frederick three parts;

The Chafe family moved seasonally between Petty Harbour and Goulds which are a few miles apart. Sarah is listed as being born in Petty Harbour where her father had a fishing premises, but her parents had a farm at Goulds as well (which in the mid-1800s was a wilderness). If the fishing season was bad, the family still had their produce and livestock on the farm to see them through the winter.

Note by Edward Vincent Chafe:

Fanny Chafe was one of many who died in a diphtheria epidemic. Fanny Chafe was the first born child of Frederick Chafe and Ann Pearce, who were married Dec 10, 1860. Frederick was the son of David Marshall Chafe and Susan Williams, and was the grandson of Samuel Chafe and Mary Marshall, who's gravestone is two places away from Fanny's. Ann Pearce was the daughter of Richard Pearce and Mary Ann Chafe who were married Dec 27, 1825. Fanny Chafe was born May 1, 1862. A year after Fanny's death, Frederick and Ann Chafe had their eighth child, born June 20, 1879 which they also named Fanny. The second Fanny did not survive into the autumn.

90. Levi George<sup>5</sup> Chafe (George William<sup>4</sup>, Samuel<sup>3</sup>, William<sup>2</sup>, John<sup>1</sup>) was born 21 Oct 1861, and died 10 Sep 1942. He married Mary Elizabeth (Lizzie) Cook 05 Jan 1887 in St. Mary's C/E, St. John's, Newfoundland, daughter of William Cook and Mary Stroud. She was born 24 Oct 1863, and died 22 Aug 1942.

Notes for Levi George Chafe:

Born Petty Harbour, Newfoundland. Levi was noted for his editions of Chafe's Sealing Book, Chafe kept annual records which became the authoritative publication on the history and practice of sealing off Newfoundland's seal hunt. These books, the first of their kind, recorded the history of the hunt, explained its operation and described the technological changes that had occurred over the years. Apart from his writing, Chafe was involved in business and worked for three years in the office of the Morning Chronicle before leaving Newfoundland in 1878 to travel around the world. Upon his return to St. John's from 1883 to 1919 he worked in various firms. In that year he accepted the position of examining officer with H.M. Customs, which he held until his retirement in 1934. Throughout those years and up to 1941, the year preceding his death, Chafe diligently produced his annual reports of the seal hunt. These include the Report of the Newfoundland Seal-fishery, from 1863 to 1894 (St John's, 1894), Chafe's Sealing Book, (St. John's, 1923) and Chafe's Sealing Book: A Statistical Record of the Newfoundland Steamer Seal Fishery, 1863-1941 (reprint St. John's, 1989). Newfoundlanders caught the seals in the winter to supplement their fishing income. They rarely ate the meat or wore the skin, as merchants were anxious to buy the skins and the fat. The skins were salted down and shipped off for manufacture into leather. The fat was rendered into oil and used for lighting, machine lubricants, softening textiles, paint additives, explosives, and margarine. In the 1840's seal oil represented 84 percent of the value of exported seal products. In 1855 there were 400 vessels and 13,000 men engaged in the hunting 400,000 seals. Currently in Newfoundland, 700 vessels and 12,000 sealers who hunt 275,000 seals annually out of a total population of 5.2 million seals.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Church, Southside, on Wednesday last, when Miss Ina Gertrude, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. CHAFE, was united to Mr. John Cowan ELLIS, Commission Merchant, of this city. The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the sacred edifice, to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Mr. H. W. STIRLING, L.L.C.M. She was attended by her sister, Miss Audrey CHAFE. The groom was supported by Mr. Ronald McK. CHAFE. Rev. A. B. S. STIRLING, Rector of St. Mary's, performed the ceremony. Afterwards, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Springdale Street. The NEWS joins with their many friends in extending very best wishes for their future happiness to Mr. and Mrs. ELLIS.

Notes for Ernest Chafe:

This could be Ernest "Charley" Chafe: (1895-?) Ernest Chafe was the mess room boy on the ill-fated Northern Party of the Canadian Arctic Expedition (CAE). The CAE voyage to the western Arctic lasted from 1913 to 1918, discovered four new Arctic islands which added to Canada's territory, established Canadian sovereignty and re-mapped significant mapping errors. The Expedition initially involved one ship, the ex-whaler Karluk, but four other ships were added later, to expand the scope of the research. The Karluk was captained by Captain Robert (Bob) Bartlett (1875-1946) who was born in Brigus NF. Bartlett was a member of two of Robert Peary's Polar expeditions, as master of Peary's ship Roosevelt, 1908-09, part of the advanced polar sledging party, and spent three winters in the polar regions. The Karluk left Victoria BC in June 1913, became frozen in the ice, drifted westward and sank in January 11th, 1914. The crew had to transfer provisions to make-shift structures on the ice and established a camp 40 miles from Wrangel Island located off the northern coast of Russia. Nineteen-year-old Ernest Chafe was an accomplished marksman and gradually became a key member of the surviving crew. On February 7th he was sent to establish a supply post on a nearby Herald island and to locate an advance party of explorers. However open water separated the island from their position, and they had a harrowing return back to the base camp. Bartlett successfully lead the crew safely to Wrangel Island based on Chafe's observations. On March 18th, Bartlett and an Inuit named Kataktovik left the camp to notify a rescue party. They crossed the treacherous ice to the Siberian coast and travelled east. On April 8th Chafe went with two others to gather up the remaining provisions at the site of the ship's sinking. However the ice flows were constantly colliding, flowing and opening up. He became separated from the team, and half blind, frostbitten and lead on by a husky named Molly, he returned home to camp on April 13th. Bartlett and Kataktovik were picked up by Captain Pedersen and the Herman on May 21st, and taken back to Alaska. There he arranged for the rescue of the Wrangel Island survivors. The US walrus trader King and Winge found the 6 crew members, 1 scientist, 1 passenger, 4 Inuit (including an 8 and 3 year old), Molly and one cat on September 6th. Two days later they transferred over to Bartlett's boat, the Bear, and had a heartfelt reunion. One half of the Karluk crew and scientists died on the expedition. Chafe eventually lost most of one foot due to frostbite. In 1915 he wrote is own account of the Karluk story.

Newfoundland Chafe Family

She was probably just Alice Chafe, but she adopted her father's first name as her middle name. She was vivacious, perky, romantic, impressionistic - just "full of beans", Jim Chafe would say. She was always known as Alice Warren when she wasn't call "Chaffee", "Al" or "Auntie Ang".

After grade 6 her parents took her out of school. She worked at Eaton's Exchange Desk (in Winnipeg) as a runner, presumably for a few years after she left grade six, but wanted to be a nurse. In 1913 she enrolled for training at the St. Boniface Hospital and upon graduating in 1916 went overseas. Alice Warren was enthused about helping in the War effort. She had been at Etaples during the War when it was bombed, but was not disillusioned by the War – it was apparently the best two years of her life. Maybe her picture is to be found in some of those wonderful old WWI pictures that line the halls of veterans' hospitals - like the ones with Florence Nightingale and her many nursing sisters.

In 1922 she traveled to Mexico and stayed a few years. Later in Mexico City met a banker by the name of Kitchen. She married him, about 1929 or 1930. With her fluency in Spanish, she kept and rode horses and lived an exciting life, according to Jim Chafe, but had no children. They returned to eastern Canada soon after, but Alice Warren left him. She returned to Mexico in 1945 and worked as a nurse in a small mining town in Chihuahua called Santa Barbara. In 1960 she retired to London, Ontario.

In 1964 she, at age 69, married Gilmore Royce Peabody (an engineer who was then a 74 year-old widower) in Atlanta, Georgia. Jim Chafe attended the wedding. After touring North America for their honeymoon and visiting the Chafe family in Winnipeg and Glenn and Shirley Sweeney in Windsor they settled in Venice, Florida. Alice Warren had only a few years with Royce, as he died in 1972. In her later years she became a Rosicrucian. Beverley Chafe visited her when she was ill. Alice Warren died on January 2, 1980 and is buried in the Evergreen Cemetery in Jacksonville, Florida.

In the spring of 1917, shipping losses due to U-boat activity drove the need for an attack on the Ypres Salient to lead to a drive on the German naval bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge. The Third Battle of Ypres (or the Battle of Passchendaele) began on 31st July 1917. By November the battles had reached a stalemate but had taken 550,000 lives. Just before dawn on 6th November, 1917 the final assault began. Thousands of cannons and guns bombarded the German defenders. Using new wireless radios, the Canadian gunners were able to cut the time span between artillery fire and infantry movement from eight minutes to two minutes. 24th (Victoria Rifles) Bn Canadian Infantry were part of the 5th Canadian Brigade assigned to the attack. The Germans had no time to get out of their bunkers and into position to meet the leapfrogging Canadian infantry, before they were hit by another barrage. By 7.15 a.m., in spite of heavy casualties inflicted by the grimly determined enemy, Canadian soldiers had crossed the final 500 yards, overran the German trenches, captured the village, and took hundreds of exhausted prisoners. But it was a costly victory. Currie's estimate of 16,000 casualties proved frighteningly accurate. Saskatchewan's 28th Battalion suffered huge losses, operating in mud up to the knees and in some places up to the waist. Some soldiers who could not move forward in the mud were caught between the Canadian artillery barrage and the actions of the heavy German rear guard. The next morning Corporal H.C. Baker remarked, "My impression was that we had won the ridge but lost the battalion." A British commander, upon touring the aftermath of the battle site, groaned, "Good God! Did we really send soldiers to fight in that?" Weeks after Passchendaele and the ridge had been taken, the British Expeditionary Force abandoned the area as it was useless to them in terms of the original plan. The attack towards the sea had been abandoned, and there was no hope of breaking through to the German occupied Channel ports. The U-boats were eventually blockaded by simply sinking hulks of ships across the harbour entrance.

Sergeant Edward Bartlett Chafe of the 73rd Bn., Canadian Infantry (Royal Highlander Quebec Regt.) lost his life on Tuesday, 6 November 1917, the last day of fighting at Passchendaele. On 6 November 1917 Canadians took Passchendaele on the crest of the ridge dominating the Flanders Plain. Canadians held Passchendaele against a strong enemy attack on 7 November 1917, advanced 600 yards on a 300 yard front and took 140 prisoners on 7 November 1917, held Passchendaele again on 14 November 1917, and captured a farm at Passchendaele on 17 November, 1917.

Will of Frederick Chafe from Newfoundland will books volume 12 pages 240 & 241 probate year 1922

In re FREDERICK CHAFE. DECEASED.

This is the last Will and Testament of me, Frederick Chafe, of The Goulds in the District of St. John's, West, Farmer:

FIRST: I hereby revoke all previous Wills and testamentary dispositions heretofore made by me.

SECOND: I appoint my daughter Mary Jane Chafe and Brian E. S. Dunfield of St. John's Barrister to be the executors of this my last Will and Testament.

THIRD: I give and bequeath to my daughter Mary Jane Chafe absolutely that part of my farm at the Goulds held under Grant from the Crown numbered 2121 and dated August 29th A. D. 1865 and also my house and land on Plymouth Road, Holyestown, St. John's.

FOURTH: I give and bequeath to my said executors all the residue of my property real and personal of every kind whatsoever whereof I may die possessed to held by them as it is at present or leased or sold and disposed of or dealt with in any other way which to my said executors shall seem expedient for the purpose of providing for the maintenance and support of my said daughter Mary Jane so long as she shall live and remain unmarried. In the event of my said executors seeing fit to sell or dispose of any part of my said property the proceeds shall be invested and the interest thereof devoted to the maintenance of my said daughter but provided that in case for any special reason it shall seem necessary to them my said executors shall be at liberty to pay to my said daughter or otherwise make use of for her benefit the whole or any part of the principal monies or proceeds.

FIFTH: Upon the death or marriage of my said daughter my property shall be distributed as follows:

I leave and bequeath to my daughter Mary Jane Chafe absolutely that part of my house and the appurtenances thereof which I at present occupy (being the South West portion there of) together with the whole of the garden situate in front of the house and between it and the river together with all necessary rights of way to the main road from the said part of the house from both front and back, and also from the garden.

to my son Samuel the remainder of my farm at the Goulds (that is to say the part not included under Grant numbered 2121 above mentioned) together with that part of the house which he at present occupies.

to my grandson Hugh son of Henry Williams that piece or parcel of land situate on the West side of the Goulds Back Line the same being comprised in the Grant from the Crown dated January 25th A. D. 1882, and numbered 4470.

To my daughter Mary Jane all my household furniture and effects.

Newfoundland Chafe Family

The remainder of my property wheresoever situate or of whatsoever kind shall be sold in whatever way may to my said executors seem most advantageous and the proceeds thereof in money together with any other monies which may then belong to my estate shall be divided in twenty one parts which shall be distributed as follows:

To my daughter Mary Jane six parts which if she shall die unmarried or without issue and shall not by Will otherwise appoint, shall be equally divided among the rest of the family;

to my daughter Fanny Rosamond Lee three parts;

to my daughter Sarah Ann Leard three parts; to my son Frederick three parts;

to my son Henry William three parts;

to my grandson Hugh son of Henry William two parts;

and to my son David Marshall one part, which shares are to be considered by my said children as being allotted to them according to their circumstances of prosperity or otherwise and not unequal for any other reason; my son Samuel receiving no part of the money on account of his having received a better part of the land than the others.

Dated the 27 day of January A. D. 1919. FREDERICK CHAFE.

Signed Published and Declared by the said Testator as and for his last Will and Testament in the presence of us who in his presence and in the presence of each other at his request did sign our names as subscribing witnesses thereto:

The Clan McNaughton was a pre-war merchant ship, which was requisitioned in November 1914 when she returned to her home port of Tilbury. She was then converted into an auxiliary cruiser, with deck mounted guns. The crew was comprised of Royal Navy officers, Merchant Navy and the rest reservists. She sailed on patrol duties in the North Atlantic a few days before Christmas 1914, but had to put into Liverpool on the way. She returned to Liverpool certainly once, perhaps twice before her loss in February 1915. She was in radio contact at about 6 a.m. on the morning of 3 February 1915 and reported terrible weather conditions off the coast of Northern Ireland. Nothing further was ever heard of her. She may have been sunk in the storm, or was mined. In all 261 of her crew were lost including 21 Newfoundlanders.

Henry George Chafe (1860-1948) married Amelia Ann Howse (1861-1943) on 18 October 1883, St. John's. She was the daughter of James Howse (1797-1821) and Catherine Feltham of Greenspond, NF. They were the educated part of the family, and their children became socially prominent. Henry George was first a schoolmaster in Gooseberry Island (c.1885) and Pool's Island (Badger's Quay) and then went to Brigus where he became the superintendent of schools. He and Amelia Ann Howse were buried in Brigus.

Henry George was the fourth teacher in Pool's Island, teaching there from 1890 to 1905. He was a lay-reader for St. James Anglican Church over that same period and was very active in the community. In 1898 he conducted 106 services.

Henry George Chafe was for many years a teacher at St. George's Church of England School in Brigus, which at the time was operated by an organization know as the Colonial and Continental Church Society. Henry George was prominent in church and civic affairs and served for a time during the late 1920s and 1930s as a Commissioner of the Supreme Court in Brigus. Upon completion his career as a teacher, Chafe was appointed to the position of school inspector with the Newfoundland Department of Education, a position he filled dignity for some years before retirement. Henry George was a very strict school inspector but was well liked by his student when he was a substitute. Very religious, he would not let his children out to skate on Brigus Pond on Sundays

Beginning in 1844, the school inspector system was in use in Newfoundland schools for 100 years. It was a policy of the education authorities over that period of time to have an inspector visit every school in Newfoundland at least once a year following which a report was submitted to the appropriate authorities on the condition of the building, the progress of the pupils the demeanour of the teacher etc. For example, the inspector who visited one Newfoundland settlements in 1844 wrote, " 16 children were assembled in the limited space of the teacher's kitchen"; of another he wrote, "school is held in a low, inconvenient loft with access only by a high dilapidated stage"; and of still another, "The school was in a sordid plight, with all the windows closed, and the air not fit to breathe."

Very often in earlier days, when the Society built schools in many of the larger Newfoundland communities, they also erected teachers' residences. The stately old dwelling which Henry George lived in was one of these. Having served for many years as home to teachers operating under the authority of the Newfoundland School Society, and later under the Colonial and Continental Church Society, the building was then sold to H. G. Chafe who occupied it from the early 1900s to the time of his passing. Two areas near the site of the former house are named after him. Chafe's Hill is the rocky rise close to the shore and Chafe Beach is located nearby on the left.

For most of the period during the 1930s and 1940s, the Chafe dwelling was home to the Knee family, and it was here between 1932 and 1936 that (Abbie) Knee conducted a number of his early experiments in amateur radio. Abbie Knee, son of Edith M.

(Chafe) Knee and grandson of H.G. Chafe, later became one of the pioneers in the establishment of radio communications in Gander, where he continued to pursue his vocation as a wireless operator from that airport town's early beginnings to his retirement there in the mid 1970s. Others of the Chafe family included: Beatrice, wife of Rt. Rev. J. A. Meaden, Bishop of Newfoundland; Myra, wife of Dr. Leonard Miller, a man prominent in Public Health circles for most of his life and after whom the Miller Health Centre (the former St. John's General Hospital) is named; Daisy, wife of bank manager Gerald Laing; and two sons: William, who became a successful osteopath and actor in Montreal, and Harry, a discharged veteran of World War I who also lived in Montreal.

- iii. Ernest Leslie Chafe, b. 25 Feb 1892; d. 01 Jul 1916, Battle of the Somme, WWI.

Notes for Ernest Leslie Chafe:

Born in St. John's, Newfoundland. He was one of twelve children of Jacob and Jane Chafe. He was one of 17 other Chafe's who fought for the 1st Newfoundland Regiment in WWI. Private Ernest Chafe (Service Number 709) died Saturday July 1, 1916 on the first day of the Battle of the Somme. The battle was planned by the British to relieve beleaguered French troops at Verdun and to cause a decisive breakthrough in the German lines. The Newfoundland Regiment was raised within just two months of Great Britain's declaration of war, and had already fought with distinction in Gallipoli. They arrived in France in March 1916 and were one of the four battalions of the 29th British Division's 88th Brigade. On July 1, 1916, 100,000 Allied soldiers, 801 Newfoundlanders among them, commenced the largest infantry offensive to-date along a 40-kilometre stretch of No Mans Land. Thinking advance troops needed help, the Regiment's orders were to capture the lines of enemy trenches at Beaumont-Hamel, some 900 metres away. At 0915, weighed down by 30 kilograms of equipment each, and without artillery support, they advanced slowly from the reserve trenches of St John's Road towards the waiting German guns. A murderous cross-fire by the experienced and dug-in Germans cut across the advancing soldiers. Within thirty minutes the 1st Newfoundland Regiment was virtually annihilated. An isolated tree called the Danger Tree was the Regiment's rally point but also marked a target for the enemy's deadly fire. It was the bloodiest day of the war for British Army. Of the 801 Newfoundland soldiers who went into battle, 255 were killed, 386 wounded and 91 went missing, decimating the colony's premier contribution to the imperial war effort. When the roll call of the unwounded was taken next day, only 68 answered their names. The British suffered 57,470 casualties (19,240 deaths), while German dead or wounded totalled 8,000. Little ground had been gained and months of deadlocked fighting followed. Some historians see the Somme as the beginning of the end for British control over her empire. Ernest Chafe was buried in the Y Ravine Cemetery, Somme, the memorial marked by a bronze statue of a caribou - the symbol of the Regiment. July 1st is an important day of remembrance in Newfoundland.

DOUBLE DROWNING AT PETTY HARBOUR
LITTLE DAUGHTERS OF MR. HENRY CHAFE THE VICTIMS

Petty Hr. was the scene of a tragic occurrence on Saturday morning last when Doris and Ida, aged eight and six years respectively, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas CHAFE, lost their lives by drowning. How the fatality occurred is unknown as no one saw them fall into the water, and the first intimation of the tragedy came with the discovery by the heart-broken father of the elder child's lifeless body floating face downward in a pool in the river which flows pass the rear of the CHAFE residence into the harbor. The absence of the children was noted at the dinner hour and it was while looking for them that their lifeless bodies were found about sixty yards from home. At first only the body of the elder girl was seen, and the father rescued it from the river and tenderly conveyed it home. Then search was renewed for the other child, and at the bottom of the pool, known as Cook's Pool, which is five or six feet deep, her little body was found. This double tragedy so unexpectedly coming upon their home has naturally overwhelmed Mr. and Mrs. CHAFE with inconsolable grief. How both little ones got into the river is unknown, but it is believed that the younger child must have accidentally slipped into the pool and that in attempting to rescue her the elder child was dragged in also. The settlement is deeply stirred by the tragic happening and there is widespread sympathy for the distracted parents. The bodies of the little girls were interred yesterday. Cook's pool, where the drowning occurred was so named following the drowning of a lad of that name there some years ago.

GEORGE CHAFE, Private, 3236

Royal Newfoundland Regiment

Died: Saturday 13 April 1918. Age 35

Son of Philip and Jane W. Chafe, 36 Convent Square, St. John's; Husband of Jane Chafe

Commemorated at Beaumont-Hamel Memorial, France

CHAFE, George, Convent Square, died at Bailleul, prisoner of war, April 12, 1918.

The Battle of Bailleul, Bailleul-Nieppe. Bailleul was the scene of hard fighting during the last German push and its subsequent repulse in 1918. The British and French Commanders were determined that the inevitable onslaught would be met with the same invincible spirit that had impelled their forces for almost four years. Along with the numerous other units that went to make up the British armies, the Newfoundland Regiment was rebuilt during the winter months. After spending 25 days in the Paschendaele sector, it left for the Somme on April 10, but when news of the Armentieres reverses were received it was diverted to that area. A position was taken about midway between Bailleul and Nieppe, a short distance to the south of Armentieres. On the morning of the 13th, A Company, under Lieutenant E. Chafe (1895-1938), went into the line between the Hampshires and the Monmouths, and about noon, C Company was sent up in support of A Company. B and D Companies were in reserve. At 4:30 the battalion on the left fell back, and exposed the left flank to a strong enemy attack. Lieutenant Moore and his platoon faced the enemy onrush and put up a gallant and stubborn fight until they were surrounded and taken prisoners. Their sacrifice, however, was not in vain. Their heroic resistance completely took the edge off the German attack, and the remainder of C Company and Headquarters were able to hold their position along a light railway line. Practically the same situation existed on the right flank. A Company lost its left wing, and for a time nothing could be heard of it. Later, however, it formed up, and with the assistance of Headquarters, stopped the enemy advance and formed a junction with C Company on the right. On the following day, owing to a dangerous situation developing on the high ground at Neuve Eglise, a general withdrawal to the Ravelsburg Heights was decided on. The Newfoundland Battalion, in its position near DeBroeken, was entrusted with covering this withdrawal. In the evening the enemy attacked with great force and penetrated the British line near LeSeau. Their advance continued until about 6:30, when they were stopped by the Lewis guns of D Company. More German infantry rushed up, and for a time it looked as though part of the Battalion would be surrounded. However the Battalion regrouped and the Germans were stopped only 25 yards from the line. When the Royal Newfoundland Regiment dug in at dusk on the 14th, it had taken 500 prisoners and 94 machine-guns, eight field guns and large quantities of ammunition. But this had not been accomplished without suffering heavy casualties. At dawn next day, the Battalion could muster only 300 rifles. Under cover of darkness the remainder of the 88th Brigade withdrew to the Ravelsburg Heights. The Battalion passed through the line taken by the Hampshires and 4th Worcesters, and took a position in the rear, forming a counter-attacking battalion. Owing to the threatening advance of the enemy, however, the Newfoundland Regiment was hurried back to the line during the afternoon, and was not again relieved until the 21st. During this late period there was no fighting, apart from two intense bombardments by the Germans. This was the regiment's last battle as part of the 88th Brigade, 29th Division. The following month the regiment was formally withdrawn from service due to its depleted ranks.

He married Anna Mary Hillier. She was born May 1893 in Burin Peninsula, Newfoundland, and died 1962.

Notes for William George Chafe:

William George Chafe was adopted by Thomas Foote. He had two brothers named Walter and Dan and a sister named Fanny but we're not sure if they went by Foote or Chafe but the grandfather went by Chafe.

He was taken from the orphanage by a Hillier from Taylors Bay to help with the land at the age of 9 yrs. He was the youngest of four and he was known as Willie George.

The 1929 Tsunami in the Burin Peninsula, Newfoundland affected. In Lamaline, one man, Thomas Lockyer from Allan's Island, died of injuries received. All stages with their contents swept away. One dwelling house moved about 50 feet.

The house of William George was tipped over and pushed back a half mile from where it stood.

William George Chafe: (1890-1963) Born in Taylor's Bay Newfoundland. On November 18, 1929 a magnitude 7.2 earthquake occurred 270 miles south of Newfoundland. (44.69° N, 56.00° W, Depth 20 km). The earthquake was felt as far away as New York and Montreal. The earthquake triggered a large submarine slump which ruptured 12 transatlantic cables in multiple places. The slump caused a tsunami that travelled long the eastern seaboard as far south as South Carolina and across the Atlantic Ocean in Portugal. Two and a half hours after the earthquake the tsunami struck the southern end of the Burin Peninsula in Newfoundland causing local sea levels to rise between 2 and 7 metres. The wall of water entering some bays was as high as 27 metres, travelling at 78 mph. Twenty seven local people drowned, representing Canada's largest loss of life to an earthquake. More than 40 local villages were affected, destroying numerous homes, ships, businesses, livestock, fishing gear as well as the catch of salt cod. Following the tsunami a gale blew up, dropping temperatures and adding sleet and snow to the survivors' misery. Many houses were lifted off their foundations and floated away. George's house was tipped over and pushed back a half mile from where it stood. One of George's son, Walter Chesley (1920-1981) served in the Newfoundland Overseas Forestry Unit #3271, Home Guard and Merchant Navy in WW2. Another son Thomas Leo (1921-1941) served in the 59th Newfoundland Royal Heavy Artillery Regiment and son Lewis (1917-?) joined the Newfoundland Royal Heavy Regiment.

Notes for Anna Mary Hillier:

The Tsunami at Taylor's bay claimed the lives of Mrs. Robert Bonnell and child (Alice). Mrs. Robert Bonnell was Noel Chafe father's sister-in-law. Her name was Bridgett Bonnell (his Grandmother sister) who was a Hillier before she married Robert Bonnell. Noel has a hand written note about her in the Tsunami and it said " Bridgett lost her glass eye in Tidel Wave 1929 eye was found on the beach but no Bridgett."

Notes for Eric Reginald Augustus Chafe:

Wed. Feb. 25, 1925 - The St. John's Daily News

A very pretty military wedding took place at the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist last evening when Beatrice Robins, youngest daughter of the late Jas. R. and Mrs. STICK was united in Holy Bonds of Matrimony to Capt. Eric R. A. CHAFE, M.C., of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi G. CHAFE; the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Canon JEEVES, C.F., Rector of the Cathedral, assisted by Rev. A. B. S. STERLING, Rector of St. Mary's.

The bride was attired in a costume of brown velour cloth with gold lace hat and carrying a shower bouquet of white carnations and orange blossoms looked charming as she entered the Cathedral leaning on the arm of her brother, Capt. L. T. STICK, I. A. R. Mrs. F. Ronald CLARK attended the bride as matron of honor, and wore a costume of gray velvet, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by his brother, Lt. Ronald McKendrick CHAFE. Mr. F. R. CLARK and Dr. J. L. DICKSON acted as ushers, and Mr. Fred J. KING presided at the organ.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Devon Row, where a delightful supper was served and the customary toasts duly honored. The colour scheme of the table was carried out in the colors of the Royal Nfld. Regiment - claret and white. For the cutting of the wedding cake the bride used the sword worn by her husband. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly presents, testifying to her popularity. Capt. and Mrs. CHAFE leave by the Silvia for Canada where the honeymoon will be spent. Their very many friends extend to the gallant officer and his fair bride very best wishes for a long and happy life.

Notes for Ronald McKendrick Chafe:

Thur. July 9, 1925 - The St. John's Daily News

Gower Street Church was the scene of a wedding yesterday, in which Miss Flora Louisa CURRIE, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. CURRIE, of 7 Monkstown Road, was the winsome bride and Mr. Ronald McKendrick CHAFE, formerly Lieutenant in the Newfoundland Regiment, and youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. CHAFE, of Springdale Street, the gallant groom. The Church was gracefully and beautifully decorated with flowers and greenery and a very large gathering was assembled.

At 3:30, the groom, accompanied by Messrs. Edgar EWING and Chancey CURRIE, brother of the bride, took their places before the Communion rail where with the Rev. Hammond JOHNSON, the officiating minister, they awaited the bride, who leaning on her father's arm, passed slowly down the eastern aisle, attended by her bridesmaids, Misses Winifred BARKER and Audrey CHAFE, sister of the groom. Two sweet little maidens, Joan BARTLETT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. BARTLETT, and niece of the groom, and Irma PARSONS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. PARSONS, carrying basket of choice flowers, acted as train bearers.

The bride was attired in a gown of beaded crepe de chene, with satin train, bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses, carnations and maidenhair fern. The bridesmaids wore peach crepe de chene with hat to match and carried bouquets of carnations, sweet peas and maidenhair fern. The tiny flower girls were dressed in pale pink and orchid, respectively.

Throughout the ceremony Miss Elsie TAIT, the talented organist of the church played softly appropriate music; and while the wedding party retired to the vestry and signed the register, "Because" was sweetly sung by Miss Silvia MOORE. Returning, the bridal party passed down the west aisle to the center entrance where motor car awaited them and followed by the guests, motored to the residence of the bride's parents, where a reception was held and the customary toasts honored. Following the reception, the solo "O Promise Me" was nicely rendered by Mrs. J. ELLIS.

At 5.45 the happy pair, amidst showers of confetti and of good wishes, left by motor car for Holyrood, being accompanied as far as Bowring Park by many of the guests. To-day they take the train for Placentia, where the honeymoon will be spent. The numerous presents formed added testimony to the respect and affection in which the young couple are held. .

Albert H. Chafe: (1909-1941) Born in Newfoundland. At 0030 June 29 1941 a torpedo launched by U-651 sunk the S.S. Grayburn at position 59° 30N, 18° 07W, S of Iceland. Thirty five of the crew were lost including Albert H. Chafe. The ship master John William Sygrove and 16 survivors from the Grayburn were picked up by corvette HMS Violet and transferred to the British rescue ship Zaafaran. Later that day, the U-boat was sunk by depth charges from the British destroyers HMS Malcolm and HMS Scimitar, the British corvettes HMS Arabis and HMS Violet and the British minesweeper HMS Speedwell. There were 45 survivors and no casualties. The 6,342 ton British registered steam freighter Grayburn was part of convoy BHX-133, and was carrying steel and trucks. The ships voyage originated in Balitmore and then departed Halifax on June 16 and arrived in Liverpool. U-651 (Type V11C) was launched Dec 21 1940 under Commander Peter Lohmeyer. Earlier on 24th Lohmeyer sank the 5,297 ton British Brockley Hill in the same convoy.

Notes for James Warren Chafe:

Note by Warren James Chafe May 2005:

James Warren Chafe Jr. (1900-1884) was the son of James Warren Chafe and Adelaide Roberts who immigrated to Toronto in 1891 and from there to Winnipeg. James Warren Chafe Sr. (1862-1922) was the son of Abraham Chafe and Jane Handlon (Hanlon).

Born in Springfield, Manitoba, Jim Chafe lived most of his life in Winnipeg. His accomplishments were numerous, and he was, often at the same time, an Actor, Athlete, Author, Broadcaster, Educator, Musician and Playwright. As a young man he learned to play six musical instruments including the trombone. In the 1920s he acted with traveling theatre companies in Canada and the USA and, as a left handed pitcher with a devastating roundhouse curve, set a baseball strikeout record that remained unsurpassed for over 30 years. In the Depression years he turned his interests to education and found it to be his calling. Over these years he taught high school, taught abroad in New Zealand and later in Germany, became a school principal, and later a prolific broadcaster and playwright with the CBC and local radio stations. He was in the Who's Who. He acted with the Manitoba Theatre Company. Over 100 stories from Canadian political and social history were written for radio. And, in his "spare" time in his words, he wrote seven successful Canadian history books, and one was a high school textbook for many years in Ontario and the prairie provinces. After taking up jogging at age 65, he produced three (unpublished) novels set in western Canada. His autobiography "When We Were Young, Winnipeg and I," was published as a series of 40 articles in a Winnipeg seniors' newspaper in the early 1980s.

In 1951 he was appointed principal of Alexandria Elementary School. In 1955 he became principal of Norquay Elementary School followed by two years teaching high school at the 3rd Fighter Wing of the Canadian Air Force, in Zweibrucken, Germany. He returned to Winnipeg in 1961 to become principal of Mulvey Elementary School, and retired in 1965.

Notes for William Chaif:

Born in Montreal, Quebec. He enlisted in the 24th Battalion at Montreal, Quebec in 1914. Private Chaif was wounded on 3 May 1918. He was a bugler. The War Diary entry for that day includes the following: "One gun was hit by shrapnel during barrage and the No. 1 badly wounded." Chaif must have recovered sufficiently to return to duty, because the War Diary shows him being wounded again on 9 October 1918, during the Battle of Cambrai, 33 days before the war's end. The War Diary entry reads: "17.00 'L' Battery was heavily shelled and suffered 12 casualties wounded and many gassed." Thirteen months earlier, the November 1917 Battle of Cambrai was the first large scale battle involving tanks. Building up to the battle of Cambrai, the British forces secretly transferred 376 tanks to the front. Many of the British soldiers had no idea the tanks were at the front until they rolled right up to the trenches. After the war William, who was bilingual, lived in France. During World War II, he was able to pass information easily between the allies and the French Underground. The Germans were aware of this and many times to avoid capture, he had to hide in the sewers. He had a close call once where a bayonet almost sliced off his nose. William George's brother, Private Louis John Chaif (1898-1921) of the 163rd Battalion, was wounded on 27 August 1918, during the 2nd Battle of Arras. The Chaif surname originated in Newfoundland and evolved in Quebec, as the surname spelling likely reflected the French Canadian pronunciation of Chafe.

DOUBLE DROWNING AT PETTY HARBOUR

LITTLE DAUGHTERS OF MR. HENRY CHAFE THE VICTIMS

Petty Hr. was the scene of a tragic occurrence on Saturday morning last when Doris and Ida, aged eight and six years respectively, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas CHAFE, lost their lives by drowning. How the fatality occurred is unknown as no one saw them fall into the water, and the first intimation of the tragedy came with the discovery by the heart-broken father of the elder child's lifeless body floating face downward in a pool in the river which flows past the rear of the CHAFE residence into the harbor. The absence of the children was noted at the dinner hour and it was while looking for them that their lifeless bodies were found about sixty yards from home. At first only the body of the elder girl was seen, and the father rescued it from the river and tenderly conveyed it home. Then search was renewed for the other child, and at the bottom of the pool, known as Cook's Pool, which is five or six feet deep, her little body was found. This double tragedy so unexpectedly coming upon their home has naturally overwhelmed Mr. and Mrs. CHAFE with inconsolable grief. How both little ones got into the river is unknown, but it is believed that the younger child must have accidentally slipped into the pool and that in attempting to rescue her the elder child was dragged in also. The settlement is deeply stirred by the tragic happening and there is widespread sympathy for the distracted parents. The bodies of the little girls were interred yesterday. Cook's pool, where the drowning occurred was so named following the drowning of a lad of that name there some years ago.

Newfoundland Chafe Family

Note by Ed Chafe:

Ann Chafe was one of eight children of Samuel Chafe (c1750-1814) and Ann Arnell (c1750-1795). They married at Widdicombe-in-the-Moor in 1771. I do not know where Samuel was born. I think Samuel moved there to live with his brother Peter Chafe. Both Samuel and Peter named a son Roger which is another clue. .

May have had her names spelled Chaffe

Widcombe in the Moor, Devon - near Buckland in the Moor - lots of Chaffes there from LDS records

<http://www.widcombe-in-the-moor.com/>

Alos spelled as Widdecombe-in-the-Moor

Widdicombe - near Torquay. Cannot find a "in the moor" with this spelling. Maybe it has been dropped in history.

<http://www.widdicombefarm.co.uk/findus.htm>

Notes for Nathaniel Tremills:

The family was located near Princetown, about 10 miles northwest of Buckfastleigh.

They had 7 children of which 5 immigrated to Petty Harbour.

The Tremills family came from a village a bit northwest of Ashburton about 5 miles north of Buckfastleigh.

The Tremills were weavers not mariners like the Chafes.

Princetown, Devon - near Plymouth and is 18 miles away from Torquay
